Excellence

Center for Excellence in Education

2017-2018 Alumni Campaign

Exciting news about recent CEE alumni…

Three RSI '16 alums were recently named 2017 Davidson Fellows and awarded scholarships:

- William Yin, now attending Stanford University, was awarded a $25,000 scholarship in the Engineering category for his project entitled Portable, Low-Cost Tattoo-Based Biosensor for the Non-Invasive Self-Diagnosis and Quantification of Atherosclerosis;
- Kathy Liu*, also attending Stanford, was awarded a $10,000 scholarship in the Science category for her project Nature-Based Solid Polymer Electrolytes for Improved Safety, Sustainability and Efficiency in High-Performance Rechargeable Batteries;*
- Nishita Sihna*, Harvard University, was awarded a $10,000 scholarship in the Engineering category for her project Experimental Studies in Developing Safe Sanitation Solutions.*

Christopher Radcliffe*, USABO '13, an Honors Chemistry graduate of West Virginia University, is a Fulbright Scholar. Christopher served as an English as a second language (ESL) tutor for the Literacy Volunteers of Monongalia and Preston Counties, and was awarded a Fulbright to teach English abroad. Christopher began tutoring after a summer in China, and is now in Taiwan, indulging his interests in East Asia while teaching English, performing community service and expanding his understanding of Mandarin Chinese.*